THE WARWICK

A Lesson in the Waves

As I sit on a rock by the ocean, I think how the waves reflect life
Each wave is different from the next, just like each day, yet they all seem the same
There are the small ripples that just roll onto the shore with no troubles
Then a storm moves into the area, and the waves roar in
Then the hurricanes creep in suddenly, just like those big problems that everyone runs into That's when the waves start getting destructive,
just like people in life
The waves destroy the shoreline and bridges that were built
People destroy their own life or friendships with other people
But you have to learn not to let the hurricanes or the storms throw you Fight against the tidal waves and try to make your bridges hold up.

Through and Through

This was a year of special memories for all of us at Warwick High School. War against Iraq loomed ominously as a growing possibility as the year began. This was a year of soaring gasoline prices, budget cutbacks, rising taxes, talk of recession, and fear of the future.

We cried and said goodbye to a dear friend and teacher, Mrs. Sumner. And there were other tragedies, too.

But the sun showered Warwick with gold. Our dignity swelled: despite its loss to Hampton, the football team came back to defeat top-ranked, undefeated Phoebus.

Glenda Taylor glowed as our radiant homecoming queen. Warwick this year had many sources of strength to draw upon for pride—and our own flag.

This was a year of special moments frozen in time, precious memories that will forever be a part of our life, a time of sorrow, a time of joy, a priceless year—sparkling GOLD through and through.

Covering a '64 Chevy with maroon and gold, Scott Jackson and Jay Arnett demonstrate Raider (and American) pride by participating in the homecoming parade; also riding in this senior float was Jason Franceschi. (photo by Tom Knox)

Does he have school spirit or what? Tim Davis certainly does. Before a game you will find him proudly displaying his Raider pride with buttons, ribbons, letters, and positive words about his school and teams. (photo by Tom Stroup)

We needed this one. Monty Hooker did catch this pass from Mario Haskett but was ruled out of bounds. The Raiders lost their homecoming game to Bethel, 16-20. (photo by Tom Knox)

Leaves of

Autumn Gold

The leaves turn gold in the fall, as well as shades of red, yellow, green, brown, and orange. Each year we return to school, and it is in autumn that we begin collecting our golden memories for that school year. Who will ever forget our hearbreaking loss to Hampton in football? What about the team's victory against undefeated Phoebus? How about homecoming—the pep assembly (with teachers dressed as the "homecoming court" escorted by members of the football team), the assembly with the presentation of the homecoming court, the game against Bethel (too bad we didn't win), the crowning of Glenda Taylor as homecoming queen, the dance (with the theme, "A Vison of Love"). And there was Red Ribbon Week, the fall blood drive sponsored by the Keyettes, the dedication of the tree for Mrs. Laubach, Cross Country, Tennis, Field Hockey, Golf, and Bowling. And we were saddened by the tragic death of our teacher, Mrs. Cynthia Sumner.

Homecoming is a time of Raider pride

Homecoming is a special fall tradition at WHS. This year was no exception. A different activity marked each day of homecoming week, October 15-19: Monday was Patriotic Day; Tuesday, Jean Day; Wednesday, Dress-up Day; Thursday, Bruin/Button Day; and Friday, Maroon and Gold Day.

The homecoming court was presented at a special assembly and during the homecoming game at half time. Representing the Freshman Class were Nikka Dixon and Kenya Warren; the Sophomore Class, Turquesa Hanks and Tamia Howell; the Junior Class, Amy Hinton and Africa Tobias; and the Senior Class, Senita Banks, Gail Clark, Vonnie Mann, and Glenda Taylor.

Members of each class nominate ladies to represent that particular class, and the entire student body votes for homecoming queen from among the four senior candidates. Mr. Jackie Diggs, principal, crowned this year's homcoming queen, Glenda Taylor.

The homecoming football game was against Behel, who won, 20-16. Homecoming ended with a formal dance the following evening.

One Teacher I'll Never forget

Yearbook staff member Rey Escalona asked several students the following question, "Who is one teacher at WHS that you never forget? Why?" Here are some of the responses.

Tony Watson: "Coach Jackson and Mrs. Holman because they put up with me in all the trouble I gave them. They helped me when I needed help in something."

Tony M. Jackson: "Coach T. Jackson for helping me with my future plans and Mrs. I. Lee for keeping an eye on me since I've been at Warwick."

Quoc Ahn Thai: "Mr. Drummond. He has made math a fascinating subject through his effective teaching method and enjoyably unique personality."

Keven Elledge: "I'll never forget Mrs. Walsh or Ms. Sievert. They are very special to me, and they have guided me through high school. They were not only my teachers; they are my friends."

Kim Watkins: "I'll never forget Mrs. Walsh or Ms. Holman because they have always been there for me. They both made me realize what kind of person I could be if I really got down and studied and put more effort into my work."

Tommy Caldwell: "Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. I. Lee because they made you learn what was needed."

Mike Kernodle: "Chief Bateman because he taught me the morals and principles of being a real person."

Edward Arrington: "Mr. MacNeil—a man who always understood what we had to do and is a brilliant man."

Jennie Plaster: "I will never forget Mrs. Walsh. She makes students feel special and good about themselves. She's more than a teacher. She's my best friend."

Lyra Escalona: "Mrs. Coltrane because she's a truly dedicated and caring teacher, who has taught me that even though you are faced with difficult tasks, it doesn't hurt to try to your one hundred per cent best."

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops." from The Education of Henry Adams by Henry Brook Adams [1838-1918]

Queen Glenda

Glenda Taylor is a homecoming queen with gold through and through. Her aunt made the gold gown she wore at the homecoming assembly. "It's my favorite gown," she said. At the game itself, she was crowned in a gold and black suit.

"I didn't know I'd win," she said. "I'd like to thank everybody who voted for me. And I'd like to thank all my teachers and staff members who have helped me during these last four years."

Glenda hopes to excel in athletics and sports, "... to be all I am today." She says her years at Warwick are "memories that I'll cherish forever."

Our Future Plans

Is there life after football . . . ?

Tony Jackson, yearbook staff member, talked to several seniors— mainly football players— and asked them about their future plans; here are some of their responses.

Anthony Watson: "To play football at a well-known college and study engineering.

Tremayne Jernigan: "To play football at Virginia Tech and major in electrical engineering."

Maurice Pierce: "To run track at a well-known college and major in food service administration."

Monnie Hewlin: "Attend North Carolina A & T, play baseball, and major in mechanical engineering."

Antwone McLear: "Go to college and then in the military (Marines)."

William Yarborough: "To attend a college and play football and become an engineer or professional football player and earn some real money."

Marlon Hooker: "To attend a college and play football and become a lawyer and hope to become successful."

Alvin Langford: "To attend a college and have a successful life.

Mario Haskett: "To attend a four-year college and play basketball and football and major in engineering and hope to become a very successful person in the future.

Robbie Puryear: "To attend college and play football."

David Diggs: To go to college and play football and become one of the best welders in the state."

Tony M. Jackson: "To go to college and major in computer systems analyst while in the Air Force."

"Except for war, there is nothing in American life—nothing—which trains a boy better for life than football." declared by Robert F. Kennedy, Attorney General of the United States, in the early 1960's

What Are Your Favorite MEMORIES?

This list was compiled by Jason Franceschi: Amy Grepiotis: "Hanging out with C.M.!" Will Miller: "Weekends." Randy Harrell: "Nine bucks and full tank of gas." Bryan Sheets:"The Warwick versus Hampton basketball game at Hampton." Carrie Winfrey: "The illustrious toilet paper war." Jay Arnett: "Ninth grade Sight and Sound Halloween Party (locked in the Pro Booth closet)." Scott Jackson: "The 1990 Ring Dance, starting the war of Saran wrap and toilet paper." Fred Sage: "Pretty little girls." Jim Talbot: "Ninth grade Sight and Sound Christmas party, New Year's Eve at Liza's house."Martha Painter: "Planned excursions, but not necessarily carried out, with my best friend." Moneka Hemby: "One of my most favorite memories is from my freshman year. Mr. Stacy was here, and the new sign was dedicated. I have the ribbon from that sign cutting!"

"By mean of an image we are often able to hold on to our lost belongings. But it is the desperateness of losing which picks the flowers of memory, binds the bouquet."

People

The Golden Years

What's the most important element of Warwick High School? Is it the building? The books? The athletic field? The buses? No, it's YOU. People are the most important aspect of any school—the teachers, administrators, aides, security personnel, cafeteria workers, custodians, counselors, office staff, nurses, and of course the students themselves, all of them, from the ninth grader just starting out to the graduating senior and all the others in between. These years at Warwick are our golden years, formative years that will leave their impression on us for the rest of our lives. Much of our life to come will be a validation of or a reaction against what happened to us here. Many of us will choose our life's profession by the time we leave Warwick. Some will already have made decisions about a mate and having children. Don't waste your time; mine the stream of life for all the gold you can receive. Make every day a worthy addition to your golden years.

Spirited two

Anthony Watson lent his football jersey #8 to his English teacher, Mrs. Holman. They are representative of the special Raider spirit—from both students and faculty—that radiated throughout our school this year. Mrs. Holman married a football hero and has special regard for the value of athletics as well as academics.

Graduation

Out of two hundred thirty-four seniors who graduated June 1990, one stood at the top of her class academically and carried the title valedictorian; that student was Diana Hicks. She was a member of the National Honor Society and excelled as an athlete as a member of the tennis team. We remember and salute her.

Academics

The Golden Rule

Just what is school all about for teens? Is it the "daily dose" of grammar, figures, facts and formulas? The exercise, health update or driving instruction? Could it be the warm hello, or concerned listening and gentle sharing of peers and adults of what is fondly called the "Warwick Family"? Even still, is school a place where talents and skills are practiced and honed to their greatest degree? For some it becomes a place to grow from the innocence and immaturity of youth to the greater wisdom, responsibility and leadership of age. Past the classroom are so many ways to grow. It happens with special events and holidays, ceremonies and honors. Programs and presentations, work and play, give evidence of the changes in each individual. Interaction with adults and peers and reaction to the world around us forces us to respond. For, to be ready to move ahead with our lives with personal growth is part of The Golden Rule.

Warwick Students Support And Celebrate Earth Day

Have you ever seen a piece of trash on the ground? Did you wonder where it came from, why it's there, and how long it will remain there? Did you ever bother to pick up that piece of trash? Are you "Environmentally Responsible?" In 1990 the whole earth's population joined in in a variety of ways to celebrate, honor and encourage protecting our earth. From little children to famous celebrities with songs, poems, skits and advertising, all press the point that if we all don't act now, responsibly, individually — we won't have an Earth to save in the future. Some Warwick students have found ways to "Save Their Earth".

If you look, you can find a lot of places where pollution starts.

Jamie Cuthrell shows what we can do to help our environment.

Jessica Bocanegra thinks if everyone would get together and try, we could make our earth a better place.

Organizations

Friendship Is Golden

There are many reasons for clubs in schools. Many clubs are derived from academic studies extending the learning process past the classroom to practical application. Other organizations have been contrived to recognize the best — to honor those who succeed in scholarship, leadership and service or special talents. Some clubs perform services for the school and community always willing to take on extra duties, to lend a helping hand, learning the importance of dependability and reliability. With the desire to develop and expand talents and skills, several groups turn to performing and entertainment. No matter what the reason one joins a club or organization, one of the most important facets of all involvement is the many friends made in the process. To join and be a vital member of a group is to discover Friendship is Golden.

Sports

Go For The Gold

The blue ribbon, the medal, the golden trophy — these rewards are our athletes' top priority. To this end, students are relentless in their training. Daily practice sharpens skills and refines talent. Fatigue and hopelessness sets in and defeats the spirit. Game after game, match after match, meet after meet, the athletes try harder for personal satisfaction as well as for recognition for their school. Athletes daily strive for success both in class and on the playing field. However, some argue the value of sports in a high school setting. Should sports receive more attention than academics? Are there values to be learned in sports? Although trophies are a tangible evidence of success, they are not the end. Sportsmanship, group cooperation, team spirit, and school loyalty are the reasons students in all sports programs continue to Go For The Gold.

Jeremy Winfrey concentrates on a strong finish.

The sport of cross country is not well known. It may be appreciated by the casual observer as a race over 3.1 miles, but only those few who undertake the task can truly understand the term "pain is temporary" while "pride is forever". It is not only a race against others as well as the torturous pain which builds with each pounding step. The battlefields are hilly to the point of cruelty and winds into unventured lands of fallen trees and hidden roots. This is the territory of the cross country runner, in a season without an end, on a playground without any bounds, for a sport where pain and sacrifice are the price while pride is the lasting prize for those few who dare to test their limits.

Community

Mining the Gold

Community support enabled Warwick to expand and grow. By placing ads in the various school publications, many businesses helped the school by supplying the funds necessary for printing. Warwick students "mined the gold" of our community seeking prizes for pageants, the After Prom Party and awards. Even beyond the monetary value of the community's support were the partnership programs between businesses and Warwick, sharing programs of interest and special services. The area businesses were places to shop, eat, and look for jobs. Certain establishments became familiar as places to meet friends. Putt-Putt, the roller rink, and the mall were "hot spots" for Warwick students seeking friends for good times and good gossip! The PTSA "struck gold" for the first time in employing Newmarket Fair for its first After Prom Party for seniors. The community found the consumers of Warwick to be a "gold mine" as with the economic recession, times became difficult and students and their families patronized our area stores and businesses. Together the community and the Warwick family "mined the gold" of a long, loyal mutual support.

Gold Through and Through

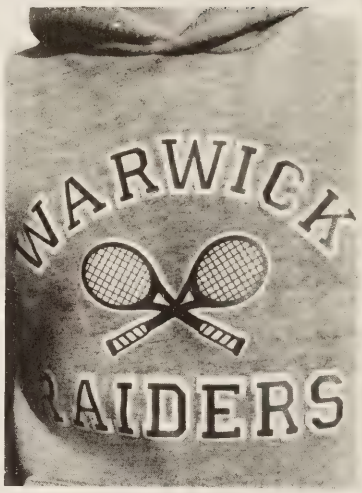
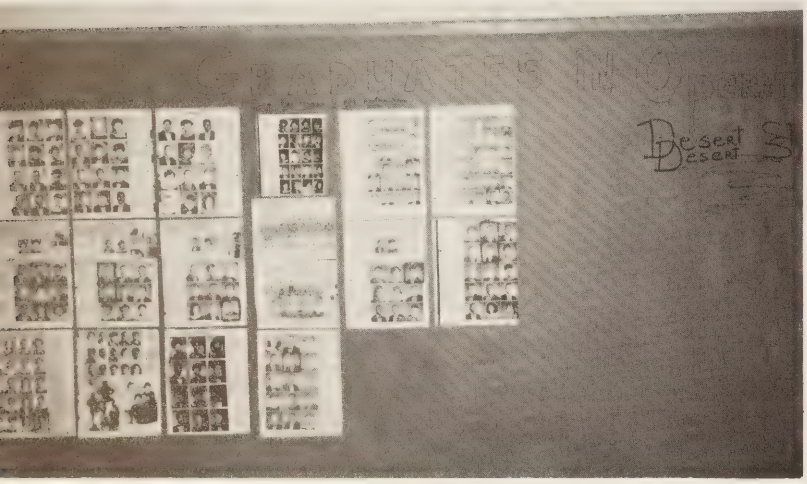
Parting Shots, Last Looks





Military Ball

Michelle Mann, escorted by Kenny Lamm, is treated like a princess at the Military Ball.

Billy Mallory and Christie Smith converse while Commander tapes the evening festivities.

Slow romantic dancing is a highlight of the Military Ball.

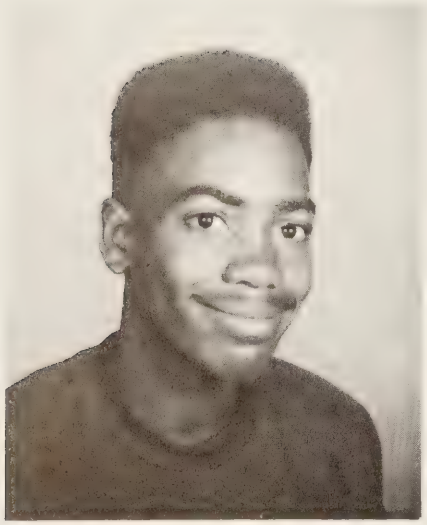
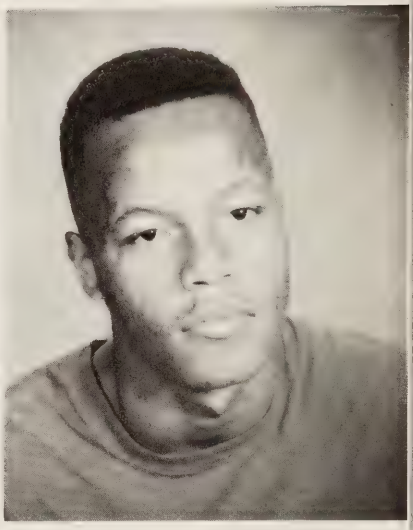
IN MEMORIAM



Anthony Wellons Bailey
1/19/75 — 12/31/90

Mrs. Cynthia "Reece" Sumner
6/20/55 — 9/24/90



Gary Peartree
1/29/74 — 9/7/90

Not for the untimeliness of their deaths but for the quality of their living, we will think of them;

Not for the brevity of their years but for the depth of their caring and friendship, we will remember them;

Not for the sorrow in their passing from this stage of life but for the memorable parts they played, we will dedicate our lives to the newness of life.

We are grateful that each of them, in golden memories, belongs to us.

In Appreciation

Due to unusual circumstances, the 91 Warwick was without an advisor in December 90, and for all purposes without a staff. The decision was made to continue work on the book with inexperienced volunteers, and without their long hours of hard work and true dedication, this book wouldn't exist. The Annual Staff would like to thank the following people without whose continued support and encouragement this book would not have been possible:

Mrs. Bonnie Lowe, Mrs. Susan Hardison — for unselfish, tireless dedication of time and effort to ensure a '91 Warwick
Mr. Diggs — for Macintosh SE Computer, Gettysburg workshop, and enthusiastic encouragement
Mr. Way — an "open door, ready ear" policy! newsletters, assemblies, help with multiguard, and unfailing support and encouragement
Mrs. Mask — directories
Mrs. Alford — film mailings, bulletins, personal favors and moral support
Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Anthony — materials, phone messages, encouragement
Mrs. Anderson — Imagewriter II, computer support/advice
Mrs. Thompson — locators and student identification
Mrs. Krause — assistance in bookkeeping and financial backup
Night School Staff — making 109 available for night work
Wayne Jones — dependable and cheerful assistance under pressure, positive encouragement, materials, mailings, sympathetic understanding
Tom Knox, Billy Garrett — underclass and senior portraits, clubs, sports, candids
Life Touch Studios — film processing, prints, enlargements, mailings
Mrs. Cooper and her 2nd period typing class — for saving us on the 2nd deadline with terrific typing of all clubs: Tanisha, Glenda, Jennifer, Jackie, Thomas, Cindy, Julie, Katina, Jennifer
Mrs. Holman and Mr. Drummond — pictures, encouragement and good suggestions
English and Government teachers — for patience and assistance with photography sessions and photo distribution
All Coaches and Club Sponsors — your terrific assistance with photography and identification
Commander Wheeler, Mr. Lilley, Mr. Garvin — sports candids
Hampton Hobby House — Pauline Ely — materials
Mike Gontesky — Daily Press — drawing program
TRC Staff — Dean Smith, Steve Devan — computer assistance
Granny Luther, Medina Marble — Drama photos
Charles Kinneson — FHS advisor — assistance in layout and photography
Granby and MHS Yearbook Sponsors and David Eddy
Administration - - Mr. Bruno, Mr. Waters, Dr. Perkins, Judy Brown
Library Staff — AV equipment
Gettysburg Conference — Teachers and Col. Chuck Savage — invaluable instruction and inspiration
Warren and Michele Williamson
Mrs. Dupuy, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Labell, Mrs. Coltrane, Mr. Holder — a broad shoulder, a willing ear, and loving support
Holly Bonello, Jay Arnett, Christine Martin, Amy Grepiotis, Randi Parks, Billi Hedrick, Rey Escalona, Tony Jackson, Jason Franceschi, Karis McDonald, James Talley, Kim Watkins, Telatha Allen, Amy Cox, and Jennifer Pearce — for any of the extra help you were willing to give
Oona Fles — Bauz and Kristie Coulson — for creating the cover design
Delvin Parker — for the artistic rendition of the cover design
To the Faculty, Staff and Administration — a special thank you from Mrs. Walsh for always responding so enthusiastically and loyally to her (many) requests. That's family! To my parents, husband, Taylor and Katie and Kathy — for working all Christmas on the 40 pages due after Christmas — typing, layouts, etc.; for letting me work at school guilt free; for your continued love, support and understanding. Candida Garcia, Tamara Wilson and Catherine Winfrey — you are the ones! Without you there would be no Warwick 91. For long afternoons and nights, Saturdays — so much work with so much good will. On behalf of everyone at WHS — thank you. Mrs. Walsh

Without the help of Mrs. Walsh's parents and husband, the first deadline over Christmas would not have been met. Raider Family Spirit runs deep in their family!

Ready, willing and able, yearbook representative Wayne Jones is always there to help with deadlines.

ALMA MATER

Our strong band shall ne'er be broken,
Formed at Warwick High.
Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
Sealed by friendship's tie.
Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart,
Shall be found unwavering, true
When we from life shall part.
